WARWICK, R.I. – More than 200 members of the Rhode Island State Committee, elected officials, Pledged Delegates, PLEO (Public Leaders and Elected Officials) delegates, At-Large delegate candidates and Party faithful will attend the Quadrennial Nominating Convention and annual State Committee meeting of the Rhode Island Democratic Party this Sunday, June 12, at 4 pm, at the Rhodes on the Pawtuxet Imperial Room, in Cranston.

The group will gather to elect the Democratic National Committeeman and the Democratic National Committeewoman, along with the three (3) PLEO and six (6) At-Large delegates. The 33 delegates (3 PLEO, 6 At-Large Pledged, 15 Elected Pledged, and 9 Unpledged – so-called “super” delegates) will comprise Rhode Island’s delegation to the National Convention set for the last week in July, in Philadelphia.

Because floor access is limited to only the State Committee members and elected officials, media will be credentialed and space provided adjacent to that area. Please contact the Party to affirm your attendance at 401.228.4846.
